COURSE OVERVIEW

An exploration of contemporary approaches to making art in public space. We will examine the history of public art, from pop-art to post-studio practice, and develop site and context responsive projects in a variety of public spaces.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

- Examine the history of public art and contemporary practices surrounding site-specificity
- Investigate “public space” and interrogate traditional models of “public art”
- Explore, research, and experiment with a variety of contexts and sites
- Develop context-specific and site-responsive works
- Expand your notion of what art is and can be
- Inspire further research and other creative pursuits

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

- Come to every class prepared to learn, work, listen, watch, and participate.
- Complete all assignments on time. Students are always permitted, and encouraged, to consider re-doing assignments for which they did not receive a satisfactory grade. A re-do must be completed one week after the unsatisfactory grade. A re-do does not guarantee a higher grade, but it is impossible to receive a lower grade for such efforts.
- Keep a personal blog for this class
- For each assignment, students must complete and submit three components:
  - 3 Blog Posts (observation/research/study)
  - Project Proposal (following provided template)
  - Project Documentation
- Participation in class, constructive response during group critiques, and discussion of relevant readings.
- Work hard + Experiment + Take risks + Have fun!

CLASSROOM EXPECTATIONS & ETIQUETTE

Please:

- Turn your cell phone off, or put it on silent before entering class.
- No food in the classroom.
- Come to class on time and don't leave early. Being in class is a valuable learning experience in itself.
- Be prepared to work in class and with your group during workdays.
- Participate in critiques and discussions.
- Read the given assignments and be prepared to discuss them.
- Respect the opinions of others.
- Let me know in advance by e-mail or a message on my office phone if you aren't able to attend class.
- Listening is a fundamental skill for learning and growing.
- Embrace challenges and engage in new ideas, even when they seem scary or go against your current belief systems. This is integral in the development of your intellectual, creative, compassionate, and cultural awareness and potential.
- Check your e-mail regularly for updates on project specs, due dates, and grades. It is also an excellent way to communicate with each other to discuss technical and conceptual problems and challenges.
- As a general rule of thumb: for every classroom hour you should spend an additional 2 hours outside of class each week (minimum).
- Remember being treated fairly does not mean being treated equally. Each student needs different kinds of criticism and encouragement to succeed.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

This is a studio class and much of the work done in this class is done during class time. Attendance is mandatory and crucial to your success. You can miss two classes during the semester, preferably with excused absences. After this, further absences will adversely affect your final grade. Your third absence will lower your final grade by 1/3 letter grade. Every absence after that reduces your grade by another 1/3 letter. You are expected to be physically and mentally present and on time. If you know in advance that you will be unable to attend a particular class, or that you will be late, please leave advance notice with your instructor to register an excused absence. Students are responsible for all missed material. The professor will not provide notes for students for missed classes. Tardy arrivals or early departures, unless authorized by the instructor, count as 1/2 an absence.

CANCELLATION POLICY

If it would become necessary to cancel a class due to weather or illness, I will contact VAPA's Program Assistant, Jeremy Click, who will post a note on the door, as well as send an alert via email if possible.

Students with Disabilities

If you are a student with a disability and believe you will need accommodations for this class, it is your responsibility to register with Disability Services and provide them with documentation of your disability. They will work with you to determine what accommodations are appropriate for your situation. To avoid any delay, you should contact Disability Services as soon as possible. Please note that accommodations are not retroactive and disability accommodations cannot be provided until a Faculty Accommodation Letter has been given to me. Please contact Disability Services for more information at Main Hall room 105, 719-255-3354 or dservice@uccs.edu.

Military students with the potential of being called to service/training during the semester, must let the instructor know no later than the second week of class to review the attendance policy. Please visit the Military Students website: www.uccs.edu/~military

Student Conduct Code students should be aware of their rights and responsibilities including standards on classroom conduct, plagiarism, etcetera. Please visit the Office of the Dean of Students website: www.uccs.edu/~dos/studentconduct/index.html

Course Evaluation (FCQ)

The Department of Visual and Performing Arts is committed to providing the best possible learning experience to every student. A key mechanism to provide ongoing excellence in teaching and learning is to gather your thoughts on each course and the effectiveness of our faculty. Students are expected to provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing an online evaluation, typically during the last two weeks of the semester. Additional instructions will be provided via a notification sent to student UCCS email accounts later in the semester. Please know that student feedback is extremely valuable to your instructor, the Department of Visual and Performing Arts, and UCCS as a whole. In particular, constructive comments guide the enhancement of future versions of this course.
